year. Rackline's sleek, practical high-density impressed, while adjacent Filestation is innovative, elegant and a real winner in space saving and efficiency. Nicely displayed too, which can also be said of Triumph. In the recent past, Triumph has really raised the ante in all the key areas to the point where one is almost expecting the unusual from them. We especially liked the witty presentation, the choice of imaginative product and strong graphics. Storage industry leader Bisley stressed its heavyweight credentials with an agenda leading 'Communicating Carbon' campaign, based on an OFFMA model for calculating emissions and reporting carbon footprint. Perhaps this is an area in which the interiors industry manufacturers can agree to find common ground. Staying with storage, Silverline's growth numbers
