Church House, Great Smith Street, Westminster Refurbishment of Church of England Headquarters Building

Church House in Great Smith Street, Westminster, in the shadow of Westminster Abbey, is the administrative headquarters building of The Church of England

The Client Archbishops Council for the Church of England

The Brief To supply a modern storage system at short notice, following a decision to replace and update all the existing storage for this important building

The Furniture and Storage Consultants Globe Office Solutions Ltd. Required to source, supply, and install over 600 new cabinets and 3000 internal fittings within four weeks from receipt of orders being placed

The Project Manager AYH plc. Property, Project and Move Management Consultants who originated the enquiry on behalf of the Church of England

The Building Church House is an original 20th century administrative building, with over six floors housing the three principle bodies of the Church of England comprising of the Archbishops' Council, the Church Commissioners and the Pensions Board. Church House is also where the Church of England holds the General Synod

The Storage Triumph's range of Metrix units was selected following a visit organised by Globe Office Solutions to the Brit Insurance headquarters in the City of London, where a large installation of Triumph's Metrix units was already in place

Triumph supplied and delivered more than 600 units for the complete project, in four different height requirements, and with over 3000 internal fittings to go with them - with provision for lateral filing, suspension filing, and legal and accounting folders
